Profile

Passionate software engineer with a strong focus on web development. Skilled in TypeScript, Node.js, and Git, I thrive in collaborative, Agile environments. I completed a remote Full-stack Web Development Bootcamp at Ironhack,

Employment History

Software Engineer , Critical TechWorks, Porto
MARCH 2022 — MARCH 2023

In my last role, I excelled in software development, specializing in TypeScript and Node. I ensured top-notch software quality by crafting robust integration tests to proactively identify and prevent potential issues. I streamlined the deployment process, managing updates and testing on virtual machines with precision.

I also showcased my troubleshooting skills, using DLT viewer to debug traces and efficiently track down the root causes of issues. Teamwork was at the core of our operation, where I contributed within the Scrum framework, fostering a collaborative learning environment. My proficiency in Git and its versatile tools, including squash, fix-ups, and roll-backs, further enhanced our development workflow.
